

Parklands is a bespoke independent living scheme with support provided from Praxis staff for 18 hours per day (all night and at various times throughout the day). As a converted house, Parklands offers independence and privacy in a safe supportive environment with 8 bedrooms and a communal kitchen and dining area where all meals are prepared by the staff on site. The house also consists of a large lounge and conservatory area and there are extensive private gardens with an external seating area.

Parklands is located in a convenient location directly beside Wallace Park in Lisburn and is a short walk to Lisburn Centre. It is close to shops and amenities and is also on a local bus route.

Our supported house gives older people the independence of having their own room with the security of an alarm system and with staff on site for designated hours throughout the day and staff are on site all night. The staff will check on you every day and can help assist you in an emergency so you can feel safe, secure and comfortable. They will also build a lasting relationship with your family, GP and any external agencies.
