Responder Service

24/7 in Person
Response

What is a Response Call?

Astraline's mobile responders can attend in person to emergency calls from residents within certain postcodes* with a target response time of 45 minutes.

An emergency call is received

Our trained operators are there 24 hours a day to answer any calls that are received by our alarm receiving centre. If you live within the area that is covered by our mobile responder service and have selected that service, our operators will deploy one of our responders to your address.

Responder is on their way

When our responders are notified that support is required, they aim to be with you within 45 minutes. You will need to have a key safe installed at your property in order to take advantage of this service. Our responders are advanced first aid trained and carry lifting equipment with them, so they are able to provide help as soon as they arrive, including helping you up if you have had a fall. They can also provide a falls assessment, advice and signpost you to additional services as appropriate.

What is a Welfare Call?

As part of our Welfare Calls service, a friendly member of our team will give you, or a loved one, a call to check that everything is OK.

Peace of mind

You may benefit from our Welfare Calls service if you live alone, are worried about a loved one's safety or would like to receive a friendly call from a member of our team.

Flexible to suit your needs

This service is separate to our 24-hour monitoring service, and consists of a daily or weekly call from our Astraline team. We will call to check that everything is OK, ask how your day is going, remind you about taking medicines and whether you require any additional support.
