YOUR DESCRIPTION

Set in 10 acres of gardens in beautiful parkland, Adlington Manor was originally built in the 1840s as a family house. In 1986 it was converted into a care home for older people and a purpose-built facility was added providing specialist care for residents with dementia. Recently, Adlington has undergone an extensive renovation program to ensure that it continues to provide an excellent home for its residents. Adlington Manor is situated just a few miles from the Peak District National Park, and is close to both Manchester and Liverpool on the A523 just north of Macclesfield.
