your companion.

What do Companions do?

There are 4 levels of companions

Full-time and part-time companions:

- ✓ provide company in the home
- ✓ provide domestic help: light cleaning, laundry, cooking
- ✓ run errands: picking up prescriptions, walking the dog
- ✓ accompany you to appointments or social engagements

Full-time and part-time companions plus:

In addition, a 'Companion Plus' may also assist with duties such as dressing, bathing and administering medication.

Part-time companions and companions plus'

A part-time companion or companion plus may work for as little as two or three hours each morning and evening, and they have the rest of the day free to study or work in another part-time role.

Hours and salary

Hours range from 20-55 hours a week
Salary ranges from £90-£650 per week, depending on experience, skills and requirements. Free accommodation and food are provided by the host.

Who are the Companions?

Companions are:

- ✓ responsible people with a kind and caring nature
- ✓ British or non-British nationals, who are already based in the UK
- ✓ usually aged between 26 and 65
- ✓ often divorcees, empty-nesters or retired people looking for a new start and a change of scene. Many are mature students, retired nurses or retired carers

How much choice do I have over who lives with me?

- ✓ You have 100% of the control over which companion you choose to live with you in your home
- ✓ Our 'intelligent matching' process is extremely thorough
- ✓ Even before the first interview, for each companion, you are provided with detailed application forms, letters, photographs, qualifications, licenses, passports, certificates, DBS checks and references
- ✓ We offer more, up-front information on all companions

If you have any questions or would like more information, our advisors will be happy to help.
