...and she still has today.

“Whether it’s keeping fit, meeting friends or just having a good old look around the shops, Mum is still active today and, thanks to Astraline callsafe, she can enjoy the freedom of her own home too.”

Stay independent

No matter where we are in life, being free to choose where and how we live is important to us all. We understand that your independence and freedom is important to you and, with the assistance of Astraline callsafe, you can keep independent and stay safe in your own home.

Through a sleek modern transmitter and with the choice of a slimline personal touch pendant or discreet wristband, callsafe’s personal alarm alerts our professional telephone response team any time of the night or day and, with its wide reach, you can even use it in the garden!

You don’t need to worry

If you have a fall, feel unwell and can’t get to the phone, we will step in at the press of a button. With our personal knowledge of your circumstances, our on-hand experienced telephone response team know how to provide the best help especially for you. It may be contacting the emergency services or your chosen key holder but you will always be in safe hands.

“Without Astraline callsafe, my Dad wouldn’t be here today. When Dad has called Astraline callsafe, as they know his medical details, they have been able to action the correct response immediately. This has saved his life more than once. They have never let us down and, as a family, we can continue with our daily routines knowing that Dad is safe, secure and enjoying his own familiar routines, staying independent in his own home. I would recommend Astraline callsafe to anyone who needs to have access to assistance 24 hours a day. They are amazing.”

“Thank you for the help I received when I fell last week. I was really impressed with how Astraline callsafe handled the incident. Please pass my comments on to the team who helped me.”

Mrs Foster, Halifax

“A huge thank you to Astraline callsafe. My mother was distressed and having a sudden angina attack in the early hours of the morning. They were fantastic. They reassured her until the paramedics and I arrived. She is now back home and I am so grateful to Astraline callsafe.”
